Historic Boutique Hotel Gets New Name

Key West, Florida – December 12, 2018 – A historical Key West boutique Inn has changed its name. Along with new ownership, a fresh, new, and unique name has been given. The Inn, formerly known as The Artist House on Fleming, will now be known as The Inn on Fleming.

The Inn on Fleming, circa 1894, is located at 1016 Fleming Street in Key West, Florida. Previously known as The John Fleming House, it was named for John Fleming, one of Key West’s most important developers who, along with three others, developed the island after it was purchased from Spain in 1815. “Although the Inn has changed ownership, it will still operate under the same principles, standards, and care that it always has” says General Manager, David Black.

Key West is known for providing visitors with unique and memorable experiences, a mission that is at the core of all who do business on this small, vibrant island. Hoteliers understand the importance of setting the bar high on service, accommodations, and amenities and the “new” The Inn on Fleming will continue to provide the same exceptional service to its guests that it always has. Offering 9 cozy rooms & suites, a lovely porch for lounging, tropical gardens, and a swimming pool with waterfall, The Inn on Fleming is an oasis tucked away on a quiet residential street but easily accessible to all of the nightlife, shopping, dining, and excursions that Key West is known for.

The Inn on Fleming is managed by Riley Hotel Group, a leader in the independent, branded and boutique hotel operations categories.
